Python strings

A string is a sequence of characters
Strings are enclosed in quotation marks
Concatenation joins strings with the plus operator
The plus operator adds no space automatically Repetition: a string multiplied by a whole number print shows values; commas add a space input always returns a string Convert with int to do arithmetic Loops: while and for Comparison operators give a boolean